STAR MAP MADE BY CAMP GIRLS

Stay Up All Night for Sky-watching Project.

Camp Fire Girls who are camping at Tannadoonah, the organization's reservation overlooking Birch lake, near Vandalia, Mich., spent all of Wednesday night working on a map of star constellations. An overnight hike and star watch was conducted under the supervision of Miss Bobs Emerson, nature lore councillor, of Morenci, Mich.

The girls took half-hour turns observing the skies and filling in the map. Assisting Miss Emerson were Miss Kathleen Peck, Miss Catherine McIntyre and Miss Louise Fargher.

Tuesday evening a popular carnival was conducted in Copp lodge, with sideshow booths and contests. Girls of the senior cabin appeared in the garb of side show personalities such as Siamese twins, freaks, fat and thin ladies. Miss Alta McDermott "read fortunes." Miss Fargher and Miss Evelyn Welborn assisted in directing the events.

The week of evening stunt programs was launched Monday with challenges around a bonfire in magic ring. Contests were won by Rosemary Wilson, Jane Hoyer, Pearl Doris Benz, Mary Blier, Katherine Keen, Janet Bickel, Mary Ann Thornton and Lucille DeGrove, of South Bend, and Sue Holderman, of Bremen, Ind. Patricia Orrison and Erma Jean Mathews were proclaimed winners in pantomimes.

The first council fire was held Saturday evening in the lodge. The traditional ceremonial was followed and Indian legends and poems were heard. Each member received a Tannadoonah symbol. Marjorie Norris, of South Bend, received an apprentice honor in handcraft. Dorothy Bickel received her first rank in nature lore and the second rank went to Miss Hoyer, Miss Benz and Helen Rerick, all of this city.
